

You are cordially invited to the

'E-government academy on wireless services'

an conference organised by the Smart Cities Project and hosted by the City of Groningen and St. Draadloos Groningen

16 April 2009, Groningen

The Smart Cities project is creating an innovation network between cities and academic partners to develop and deliver better e-services to citizens and businesses in the North Sea Region. This conference will bring cities, universities and businesses together to share learning and shape the design and development of new e-services.
